IMMEDIATE OPPORTUNITY: Wireless carriers must deploy THOUSANDS of macro sites nationwide in the next two years. Airwave Developers (AWD) uses established carrier relationships and connections to promote properties for consideration of these sites and to secure carrier agreements to generate additional monthly revenue for property owners.

With the unleashing of pent-up data demand as users work, play and learn at home using bandwidth-heavy apps, AWD is actively marketing partner properties to wireless carriers seeking aggressive rooftop cell-site expansion due to:

Increased data usage on limited-capacity wireless networks

More extreme spikes in demand

We are seeing immediate-term carrier interest in many property rooftops and encourage you not to miss any revenue opportunities, as equipment sizes in most cases have become relatively compact. As always, AWD represents property owners only, not carriers.

We realize it is difficult for property owners to be wireless industry experts in addition to managing their portfolios. Our data-driven methodology is proprietary and unique in the industry, and our goal is to give your properties the competitive advantage to be leased by the wireless carriers at the highest possible value.

How it Works

- After entering into a risk-free arrangement with Airwave Developers, we run each property through our proprietary software to assess your Airwave Rights.
- We market your properties to the carriers and help you secure and negotiate antenna lease agreements or other arrangements for your properties.
- We continuously market your properties to the carriers based on industry evolution such as new spectrum auctions and technology changes like 5G.
- Using the same data-driven approach, we assist property owners with site lease renewals, and we audit existing leases to help maximize value.
